Foot-longs, city lights, Coney Island, and the Brooklyn Bridge. Isis Alexander is a proud native of Brooklyn, New York, and she will forever love the city life. Heavily recruited as a high school track and field standout, Isis seized the opportunity to be a first-generation college student when she accepted a track and field scholarship to Delaware State University (DSU). This is where Isis got her first taste of Greek Life. She was impressed with the young women of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. They were the kindest and most down-to-earth ladies she'd ever met; she saw herself in them. From that moment on, Isis knew without a doubt that she wanted to be Zeta.

With thoughts of Brooklyn on her mind and longing for the feel of the big city, Isis traded the rural aura of DSU for Coppin State University in Baltimore. There she continued her athletic prowess at a Division 1 school in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC). It wasn't long before Isis helped lead her team to victory with an MEAC conference championship in cross-country.

Successfully balancing academics as a biology major and chemistry minor, athletics, and community service, Isis caught the eye of the same sorority that warmly welcomed her to DSU. Isis accepted the invitation to be a part of the BEST organization ever, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Nu Gamma Chapter. She loved how hard the sorors worked for the love of Zeta.

When it was time to choose a graduate chapter, Isis saw that the women of Eta Pi Zeta Chapter had a strong community presence in giving and serving, something that's near and dear to her heart. Isis joined Eta Pi Zeta Chapter and immediately made an impact by serving diligently as chapter Tamias Grammateus and Tamias. She also was a local and state fixture on the Finer Womanhood Committee.

Isis still loves running, which she does a lot of that these days in her spare time. And she's active in her church at the Potomac Church of Assembly of God in Germantown, MD. Isis enjoys cooking and baking, and her job as a Laboratory Technician. But her greatest joy and best gift ever is being the Mom to a very special young daughter and Zeta Pearllette named Morgan, who is also a budding runner.

For all that she does, Soror Isis Alexander is our Zeta Crush for this Wednesday.

Arlinda J. Clark has been an unsung hero for Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated since February 2003. Her zeal for Zeta led her to the position of Parliamentarian, and later to the position of President of Kappa Omega Zeta Chapter in Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania. A testament to her strong work ethic and multi-faceted talents, Arlinda's ascension in Zeta continued when she accepted the State Director position for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

After serving the greater good of Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, it was a finer coincidence that Arlinda would find herself serving another Montgomery County region when she relocated to Maryland and became a member of Eta Pi Zeta Chapter in 2009.

Ever so active in Zeta, from the state level through the national level, Arlinda has continually committed her time, talents, and treasures to her beloved sorority, to include a ten-year run on the National Legal Advisory Council. Having served as President of two different Zeta chapters, Arlinda has set the bar for trusted and honorable leadership.

While serious when it comes to the integrity of the business of Zeta, Arlinda actually has a great sense of humor and a smile that can light up a room. Her brilliance is equally matched by her kindness and spirit for social action. Anyone who seeks her time and wisdom will never be turned away.

As an avid sports enthusiast, Arlinda spends much of her spare time training for Olympic-distance triathlons that began with her sole commitment to complete one in her lifetime; she's since completed several triathlons and has not looked back, still competing today. The trainings and competitions help keep her grounded in her position as a corporate regulatory and compliance attorney. She balances it all and makes it look so easy.

For all that she does, Soror Arlinda Clark is our Zeta Crush for this Wednesday.

Ashley L. Scott was born and raised in Moncks Corner, SC. She graduated from the College of Charleston with a dual major in Corporate Communications and Business Administration. At the College of Charleston, Ashley joined the Chi Iota chapter in Spring 2002; she faithfully served as Secretary and President during her time as a student. Ashley became the advisor for the undergraduates of her alma mater when she accepted the position of Third Vice-President with the Gamma Zeta chapter of Charleston, SC.

Happy to venture into new territory, Ashley moved to Atlanta and continued her education at Keller Graduate School of Management. She completed two degrees: an MBA and a Master of Project Management. Ashley was able to apply this newfound knowledge towards a rewarding project-management career that spanned over a decade with Verizon Wireless Corporation.

Ashley has never shied away from answering the call to serve Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated. In 2013, she joined Eta Pi Zeta Chapter where she's held the position of Public Relations Chair, and is currently serving as a Youth Advisor and the Recording Treasurer. Ashley loves how the women of Eta Pi Zeta chapter stay involved in the community, and how they always strive to enrich the sisterhood and impact areas that are underserved.

In addition to working as a government-contracted Program Analyst in the metropolitan area, Ashley is also an up-and-coming DC real estate agent (soon be licensed in MD) who serves first-time homebuyers, sellers and renters with Long and Foster Real Estate. With a dual career in real estate and project management, Ashley enjoys nothing more than committing herself wholeheartedly in support of the clients who depend on her. She's truly a champion servant, and she goes over and beyond to help all who are in need.

When she's not working, Ashley loves to read and the time she gets to enjoy with her supportive family and friends.

For all that she does, Soror Ashley L. Scott is our Zeta Crush for this Wednesday.
